FOREWORD

 HIS book contains kindly drawings, by the Associated Cartoonists, of people with phosphorus plus. In their heads is common-sense, and in their hearts the good cheer that spells success. No man who is not adding to the wealth, the happiness and the welfare of the world is herein included. This is a little art-gallery of American Princes, and the American Prince is a man who is fifty-one per cent right, fifty-one per cent of the time; who does not make the same mistake twice in the same year, and who makes two grins grow where there was only a frown before. No Piker can break into this Art-Gallery. We pick our people, and thus do we produce with pen and ink a Hall of Fame. The great men of the world are all dead, or else they live a long way off. The big men now are workers, businessmen, hustlers, the boys who are onto their job, and who realize that the only way they can help themselves is by helping others. We live in a wonderful time, and the greatest discovery of modern times is that truth is an asset and a lie is a liability. Once the great men of the world were warriors, destroyers, men who were endeavoring to get more out of life than there is in it. Today Businessmen are supreme. And business now is not only a way of getting your bread and butter, but business is a profession. All good doctors, dentists, lawyers, and teachers are businessmen. Business is a human service. We used to hear a man say, "I am not in business for my health." But we now realize that a man who is not in business for his health hasn't much health or much business. Then we can remember the time when the gentleman with the alfalfa on his submaxillaries would make this statement, "Oh, I am going to make my pile and retire from business and enjoy myself." We know that any man who does not enjoy himself in his business will never know what happiness is. This book is an Honor Roll of some of the big boys who are making the wheels go round, who know how to work, laugh, study, play, and who flavor all with love. And thus do they make the world a better place for being here. So here's to the hands that work, the brains that think and the hearts that love.
